Dear Marie and Herb and the Environment Committee,

I have been contacting my federal reps for years about this issue. They have been unresponsive. I am happy to see at least a gesture in the state leg. towards discussing this poisoning of our land. I have been reading with horror lately about who exactly is perpetrating a kind of nihilism that will see us all mere digital entities in the future, with all biological life deemed irrelevant. I urge you to take a look: https://darksevierent.substack.com/p/what-is-tescreal-and-why-should-you

J.D. Vance, Peter Thiel, Curtis Yarvin, Nick Land--all connections you should look into. See Unlimitedhangout.com for more.

I am now going to give you my anecdotal experience which is making me take this step in sending you all of this. If you aren't invested in the end of all life on our beautiful Mother Earth, please listen.
I am contacting you about H217, the bill on banning geoengineering in Vermont. I know this bill went to the environment committee and there was a hearing, but nothing since then.
I moved to Vermont, to Bristol, where I have lived for 20 years here in the woods. When I arrived in 2005, the birdsong was deafening, and many kinds of insects and native bees and wasps were everywhere. Gradually over the years it has become less and less, until this Spring there are no mating calls or woodpeckers hammering on my tin roof to announce themselves to a mate. When I go out my door, instead of the rich smell of fertile soil in spring, there is a bleach odor and I get something akin to asthma attacks, and nasal bleeding. Insects are sparse. It is 'snowing' as I write this, but it is not anything Nature produced. Indeed, I hear heavy planes every day, and then a white haze turning into heavy overcast. This is not due to any climate 'crisis' abatement. It is a military program. (see link) https://apps.dtic.mil/sti/pdfs/ADA333462.pdf
Right now, a California company called "Rainmaker" is asserting itself https://www.rainmaker.com/. It is making Vermont UNINHABITABLE for biological life. It's not just flooding--it is raining down chemicals that are relentlessly poisoning Earth life, and getting paid to do so. What is the end game here? Making Earth habitable for robots?

I am at a loss here. Thank you
